The program features the participation of renowned international designers, who travel to the city to share their latest masterpieces and engage with the audience.

'City of Design': Fostering Creativity and Innovation

years, this year we are elevating the BODW city program with a fresh start at BODW in the city. This initiative is definitely not a rehash but a genuine effort aimed at boosting the design economy. Drawing inspiration from the success of Paris Design Week, we aim to create a design festival uniquely Hong Kong's own. The Chief Executive's 2024 policy address mentioned using innovative thinking to position Hong Kong as a premier tourist destination, utilising the rich and unique resources of Hong Kong to fulfill the vision of 'Everywhere in Hong Kong is a Tourist Spot'. BODW in the city precisely injects creativity into the tourism industry, allowing both residents and visitors to experience Hong Kong's design allure from a fresh perspective."

Professor Viveca Chan, Vice Chairman of Hong Kong Design Centre, BODW in the city Working Committee Chairman and Steering Committee member, highlighted this year's innovative leap: "BODW in the city is pioneering a fresh format, diverging from past editions. We're engaging not just across different design disciplines, but also extending our collaborative network to include business sectors and brands, significantly broadening our reach and impact. This approach spans both B2B and B2C dimensions, positioned to catalyze innovative influences and enhancements. Hong Kong's vibrant cultural and creative industries serve as a fertile ground for these initiatives. Through the dynamic two-week span of BODW in the city, we aim to cultivate an ecosystem that enriches public engagement with design, intertwining it with daily life and elevating Hong Kong's international stature as a true 'City of Design'. This endeavor not only showcases Hong Kong's design prowess but also injects fresh perspectives and inspirations into our design scene."
